

The Daily Gazetteer.

FRIDAY, JUNE 24. 1737.

NUMB. 625

1737. 625.

THE Authors of the Journal called Common Sense, soon discovered that they were of the Number of those Empericks, who steal Titles for their Pills which do not belong to them, and of those who are crying out perpetually against one another, Be-ware of Counterfeits. If they had made no such Discovery before, the Beginning of their Paper of the 4th of June, shows that they know least of the Thing which they most pretend to. As the Cause of Common Sense and the Stage are jointly concerned. The coupling of Common Sense with the Modern Stage, is as monstrous as that Image in the first Lines of Horace's Epistle to the Piso's.

Humano Capiti cervicem, &c.

Thus translated by Lord Roscommon :

If in a Picture, Piso, you should see,
A handsome Woman with a Fiſh's Tail ;
Or a Man's Head upon a Horſe's Neck ;
Or Limbs of Beaſts of the moſt different Kinds,
Cover'd with Feathers of all Sorts of Birds ;
Would you not laugh, and think the Painter mad ?

Is the joining of Common Sense and the present Playhouse together, as these Gentlemen have done, to do themselves Honour by the Honour due to Farces and Harlequins, a Proof that they have the least useful Idea of the former ? Now that Comedy is sunk so low, that Theſpis's Performances in his Cart were doubtless Master-Pieces compared with our Beggars Operas, Registers, Eurydices, &c. Yet do these admirable Criticks represent her as triumphant, as when Terence brought his Chlorens upon the Roman Stage. These good Men take their Motto from that inimitable Character.

Vocem Comœdia tollit.

Yet Comedy may raise her Voice,
And Chlorens be allow'd to foam and rail.

If these excellent Judges of Wit had as much Judgment as is necessary for Persons to improve by what they read, they would have learnt by the following Lines of the same Epistle, Roscommon's Translation.

Painters and Poets have been still allow'd,
Their Pencils and their Fancies unconfin'd ;
This Privilege we freely give and take :
But Nature, and the Common Laws of Sense,
Forbid to reconcile Antipathies.

As Faction with Loyalty, Infolence with Duty,
Falshood and Calumny with Honesty and Humanity,
Buffoonery with Right Reason, and Grimace with Sobriety. Painters and Poets must not jumble together a Patriot and a Citizen. I use the latter in the Roman Sense of the Word, and the former in Caleb D'Anvers's.

Nor make a Snake engender with a Dove,
And hungry Tygers court the tender Lambs.

As in the Craftsman, the late Fog's, and now in the Engliſhman's Journal, or Common Sense.

THE next three Verses in Horace's Epistle seem to be Prophetick of the Appearance of the said Journal.

Some, that at first have promis'd mighty Things,
Applaud themselves, when a few florid Lines
Shine thro' th' insipid Dullness of the rest.

I CAN turn to the insipid Dulness in every Paragraph of the Paper before me, but can hardly find the few florid Lines to make a Shine with. As there is a Run of Ignorance and Impertinence thro' the whole Paper, especially where he speaks of Wit and the Drama, so is there of Impudence and Scandal. What an Insult is it on the most Venerable Order of Men, the Bishops, and the most Distinguish'd Degree of Maiden Ladies in the Kingdom; to abuse them with this infamous Irony, which reduced to the Meaning they gave it in plain Terms, would bring these Common-Sense-Men into the Predicament of Common Nulances, and throw them into the Hands of Justice : This is where he would have the Inspection of the Play-houses transferr'd to a Committee of Maids of Honour and Bishops ; Because the first are the best Judges of Wit and Modesty, the latter of Morality and Religion in this Kingdom. If a Criminal affronts a Judge on the Bench, is it the less a Crime because he grins when he does it ? But one can't take this Paper to Pieces, without writing as long, and, perhaps, as tedious a one.

THE Concern of Caleb and Common Sense for an Endeavour to clear the Town of Part of the Theatrical Filth with which it is defiled, is becoming their great Zeal against every Thing that has been, or can be, proposed for the Publick Good.

WHEN the Stews were about to be put down in Southwark, there rose up a Set of such Sort of Patriots, who pleaded hard for the Continuance of them ; but they had not the Impudence to pretend it was for the sake of promoting Virtue, as these Champions for our Dancing, Flying, Tumbling, and Falling Stage do. They own'd, honestly, it would keep up Whoring, but keep it out of their own Houses. When an Act in Queen Elizabeth's Reign was brought into the House to regulate Alehouses, and reduce the exorbitant Number of them, a worthy Member spoke vehemently against it ; not as it put down Tippling, but as it turn'd every Private into a Tippling House. Instead of such Sort of Arguments, Mr. Common Sense and Squire D'Anvers insist upon it, That Virtue itself will be in Danger, if the Nurseries of Vice are restrained or diminished.

LET us suppose a Man of Common Sense had been just reading Dryden's Limberham, or Otway's Soldiers Fortune ; Wycherley's Country Wife, or Vanbrugh's Sir John Brute ; Etheridge's Foppling Flutter, or Congrave's Way of the World ; and should immediately upon it read this Passage in Common Sense, What would he think of the Morals and Intellects of such a Writer ?

Our Plays are a Species of Learning, which instruct in Youth, and delight in Age ; which is an Ornament to the Man of Fortune, and a Comfort and Support to Necessity ; which entertain in the Cloſet, and divert abroad ; shorten the Journey of the Traveller, and is a cheerful Companion in Solitude and Exile.

I HAVE mentioned the greatest of our Dramatick Poets : But what would this be, apply'd to the present Playwrights, who, indeed, may as well be called Philosophers as Poets ? And to think that a Genius once lost, the Case of the Engliſh Drama, may be recovered by Heaps of Scribblings, and Swarms of Actors, is as extravagant as to fancy that a Man expiring under Ruins which are fallen upon him, may be delivered by throwing on more. A Poetical Genius once lost is never recover'd, but by some Revolution, almost as universal as that of the Deluge, to change the Nature of all Persons, and all Things. When the Roman Dramatick Genius sunk, soon after the Augustan Age; it never rose again ! Ours is gone, and in the Room of it we have just what they have at Sadler's Wells, and the Booths in Moorfields and Islington, under the finer Name of Entertainments. These are the Things Squire D'Anvers and Mr. Common Sense have so much at Heart ; and for the Preservation of which they have insulted both the Legislature and the Executive Power. This is no Restriction on the Taste of those Persons of Quality that frequent such Entertainments. Taste in such Things is like the Fashion in Cloaths, in which Reason or Convenience, and sometimes Decency, is not consulted, but Shew and Whim ; and when this Taste or this Fashion prevails, People that will appear abroad must taste and dress as others do, or they will meet with as much Contempt and Obloquy as if they deserv'd it. But would a good Doctor, whose Patient is in a deep Consumption, rather cram him, and pamper him for his Cure, than physic him, and diet him ?

AFTER all, when a Thing is bad in itself, the less we have of it the better, and tho' peevish Subjects, like peevish Children, must sometimes have their Humour, when a less Evil may prevent a greater ; yet 'tis an egregious Folly to pretend to that as a Natural Right, which at the best is but an exceptionable Indulgence, much more easy to be condemn'd by Divine Laws and Human Understanding, than vindicated by Necessity and Use. I have always looked upon our Stage and the Amendment of it, and at present they are capable of no other View, as in the Tale of the Cucumber ; for the preparing of which an old Gentleman at an Eating House, gave very grave Directions : You must pare it, says he, then slice it, then drain it, then put Oil or Pepper, and Vinegar to it, and then throw it away.

On Wednesday his Majesty will Review the Three Regiments of Foot Guards in Hyde Park, the necessary Orders being given for that Purpose.

The Rev. Mr. Bateman is appointed by his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, to be one of his Chaplains.

Yesterday an Information was given by Mr. Peters, Keeper of Gloucester Gaol, to Nathaniel Blackerby, Esq, one of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the City and Liberty of Westminster ; as also Affidavit made by another Person, that the notorious Thomas Rowden, one of the Persons who belong'd to Gregory's Gang, was confined in Gloucester Gaol : It seems he was taken up and tried at the last Assizes there, by the Name of Daniel Crisp, for uttering false Money, and the Time being near expired which he was imprisoned, he was to be set at Liberty; but a Person accidentally going to the said Gaol, knew him, and caused him to be detained. The said Justice granted a Habeas Corpus to remove his Body from thence to Newgate, in order to take his Trial, and the Prosecutor was bound over to sue him. This is the last of that Gang.

THE Cure of Deism: or, The Mediatorial Scheme by Jesus Christ the Only true Religion. In Answer to the Objections started, and to the very imperfect Account of the Religion of Nature, and of Christianity, given by the two Oracles of Deism, the Author of Christianity as old as the Creation, and the Author of the Characteristics. With an Application to Popish, Quaker, Socinian, and Secularists. And an Appendix, in Answer to a Book entitled The Moral Philosopher, or a Dialogue between a Christian Deist and a Christian Jew. In Two Volumes. In a New Method.

By a Country Clergyman.

I came not to destroy the Law, but to fulfil it. Ye believe in God, believe also in Me. Printed for the Author; and Sold by W. Innys and R. Manby at the West End of St. Paul's. Where may be had this Week, the Additions single, for the Benefit of those who have the first Edition.

The uncommon Success, above Thirty Years last past, of this so much famed and only true Original

ROYAL CHYMICAL WASH-BALL,

FOR beautifying the Face, Neck and Hands; hath induced many Envious Persons, not only in every Part of London, but in many Places in the Country, to sell a Counterfeit White Ball (which may prove prejudicial, as well as ineffectual) in Imitation of the true ones.

To prevent as much as possible any Mistakes in Prejudice to our Customers, we give this special Notice, That the True Sort are now sold only at Mrs. King's Toyshop, the Blue-coat Boy, against the Cross-Keys Tavern in Cornhill; and at Mrs. Giles's, a Milliner, at the Blue Ball near Hercules Pillars Alley, by the Temple in Fleet-street. Price 1 s. each Ball, or 12 to the Dozen; but no Allowance for less than 12 Balls at a Time, nor will they ever be sold any where else, except Notice be first given in these Advertisements of it.

Their true and real Virtues have been sufficiently attested in all the Years they have been Sold by Publication, and the more so, as they are still more than ever used and admired by both Sexes of the best Quality, and many Thousands of Gentry and others, for making the Skin so delicately soft and smooth, as not to be paralleled by any Wash or Wash-ball, &c. of any Kind or Form; for these Balls are indeed real Beautifiers of the Skin, by taking off all Deformities, as Tetter, Ringworms, Morpew, Sunburn, Scurf, Pimples, Pits, or Redness of the Small-Pox, and keeping it of a lasting and extreme Whiteness; they soon alter red or rough Hands, are admirable in shaving the Head, they not only give a most exquisite Sharpness to the Razor, but so comfort the Brain and Nerves, as to prevent catching Cold. They are of a graceful and pleasant Smell, without the least Grain of Mercury, and may be eaten for their Safety.

The most Eas'd and long Experienced Chymical Drop For ASTHMA's and CONSUMPTIONS,

That have been Sold so many Years, and with such uncommon Success and Benefit to the Publick, by Mr. Parry, and his Predecessors, in Boar's-Head-Court, Fleet-street; but, since Mr. Parry's Decease, are now in London sold only by Mr. Read for 3 s. 6 d. a Vial, at his Hall in White-Fryars. (N. B. You turn in just by the Sea Tavern in Fleet-street, and it's the great Corner House in White-Fryars; JAMES READ, in great Letters, is wrote over the Door.) But in the Country, by Mr. Brown, Bookseller in Bristol.

They are a most Incomparable and never-failing Medicine for the immediate Relief and perfect Cure of the most confirmed ASTHMA of the longest standing: And all Sorts of CONSUMPTIONS, even when so far advanced, as not to be cured by any other Medicine in the World.

FOR their Virtues vastly exceed any Thing that ever was published, or even known in the whole World, in the Cure of the worst Asthma's and Consumptions of all Sorts, Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, &c.

They instantly relieve the Patient in the most suffocating Fit of an Asthma, and make a perfect Cure in a very short Time; for they gently open the Breast, and immediately give Liberty of Breathing, without danger of taking Cold; they admirably allay the Tickling, which provokes frequent Coughing, and take off the uneasy Sensation of acrimonious Humours, cleanse the small Glands, relax the Fibres, and thereby enlarge the Capacities of the Vessels; thus they regularly and quickly Cure the most obstinate Asthma of the longest standing.

They speedily and to Admiration cure all Sorts of Consumptions, Ulcers of the Lungs, &c. removing all Obstructions of the Breast, and Lungs, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Soreness, Shortness of Breath, and all the usual Symptoms which attend the Beginnings of a Consumption; and, if taken in time, will infallibly prevent one when seated. They are also exceeding nutritive and strengthening to Persons of weakly Constitution, and have no other sensible Operation than as mentioned above.

And by Parity of Reasoning this most excellent Medicine (and well known to be) the most sovereign Remedy in the World for those troublesome spending Coughs, which many are severely troubled with Night and Morning; also for the Cough, and Hooping-Cough in Children, having cured Thousands; and are so pleasant, and so few Drops to a Dose, that Children take them with Pleasure, and without any Confinement.

In short, these unparallel'd Chymical Drops are the most infallible Remedy that ever was known (therefore they defeat the faint Efforts of any Counterfeiters or Imitators) for the Ailments above-mentioned, and allowed to be so by the most judicious amongst the Learned in Physick; and confirmed by the largest Experience in private Practice, are therefore most Publick for Common Good.

LONDON: Printed for T. COOPER, at the Globe in Pater-noster-Row.
